

Nursery - 13.01.2023

This week

We have loved launching our new topic the big freeze this week. This week we have been focusing on polar bears. The children have enjoyed learning all about these and where they come from. Our story of the week has been that's not my polar bear. And our song of the week was sleeping polar bears.

The children have really enjoyed show and tell and sharing their learning book moments with everyone. They were so proud!

We have had great fun for messy Monday, we walked through lots of cool coloured paints to make our footprints on paper. We had a lovely wellie walk looking at the changes of our environment. We have baked some yummy jam tarts with Miss Smith and Lastly the children enjoyed our fitness Friday traffic light game, this time moving like polar bears.

For Phonics our sound of the week has been M and our focus for maths has been the number 2.

We have started our Music lessons this week too, which the children showed lots of enthusiasm to. The children are showing great progression with squiggle me into wiggle and our PSED Jigsaw sessions.

You May have noticed you will start to see all staff faces on the door, on drop off and collections.

This will be a lovely way to see your children's key worker. If you have something important You would like to discuss with Miss Johnston or Mr Mills, you are more than welcome to ask to see them.

Mother's day workshops-March

Our Mother's day workshops will be the week commencing 13th running on a Monday-Thursday afternoon 1.30-2.30. Again you will soon receive a slip to confirm what colour bears are on what day.

Reminders:

- Red and Green bears will be swimming this week.

Dexter the dummy dinosaur!

We are now into the new year and what a better way to start thinking, if we have not already, about giving up our Dummies and Bottles. Nursery will be creating something special in the next few weeks to help to promote this and help with this big milestone! Watch out for our big magical creation!
